Advance Units To Arrive On Thursday

Indiana's 38th Infantry Division Due In Camp Grayling On Sunday

Over 8,000 Indiana National Guardsmen are due to arrive for 15 day field training period on Sunday, July 18th. Advance units of the 38th Infantry Division will arrive at the sprawling Camp Grayling base on Thursday. The Indiana citizen soldiers will arrive in 60 communities in the troops moving in a truck convoy. This will be the first time that the 38th Division has been trained in Crawford county.

Only one unit, the 138th Anti-Aircraft Battalion, will be at Grayling. It will go to Camp Grayling, Mich., where anti-aircraft range facilities are available.

Following two weeks of stiff training on the firing ranges under simulated war conditions, members of the 38th Division will begin their long trek home on Saturday, July 31. The camp will then have a one week respite before nearly 10,000 troops of Michigan's 46th "Iron Fist" Division moves in for their 1954 field training on August 7th.

Only the two States will bring Guardsmen to Camp Grayling this year for training. Guard units from Ohio and Illinois who have trained here during the past couple of years will take their 1954 two week field maneuvers at different camps in the Midwest.

Jerome Kessler, Eugene Papendick Re-Elected To School Board

The financial report showed a grand total of receipts for the year of $199,000.29. Left on hand at the end of school was $35,187.15, the report revealed.

Following the election, President Kessler spoke briefly on the progress on the new addition to the school and answered several questions. One query dealt with why the District could not have a regular election of trustees with printed and numbered ballots and the polls open all day. The question was raised by Lewis Stillwagon, who later stated that he felt that many citizens in the district were not able to express their opinion on the matter due to working in various businesses in the evening during this high period of tourist industry. President Kessler stated that due to the type of school district that Grayling was that type of election was not required or permitted.

An apparent increase in interest in school affairs was evident by the fact that 156 ballots were cast in sharp contrast to the 61 total vote of last year's meeting.

Preceding the election of the two trustees, Secretary Roy O. Miles read the official call to the meeting, the minutes of the previous meeting, the budget and financial report at the request of President Kessler.

Their marriage vows were solemnized at St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Spokane on Sunday afternoon, June 27th, at the double ring ceremony officiated by the Rev. Dr. J. H. Carson in the presence of a large group of friends and relatives. Bouquets of white carnations decorated the church chancel. Byron Swanson sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Carson presided at the organ. A white flower girl carried a small white basket with a lovely white ribbon. White streamers with orange blossoms fell from the orchid.

Miss Marjorie Nelson of Grayling was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a pale blue suit and corsage of pink roses.

Floyd Kessler of Spokane was best man. Wayne Sundgren of best man. Washington, and Louis Sandpoint, Haubert of Spokane seated the guests.

The groom's mother wore a pink suit and orchid corsage for the wedding.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the church parlors. The three tiered wedding cake was circled with maiden hair fern and pink roses. On either end of the table were white roses. Assisting at the wedding were Miss Barbara Nelson of Grayling, Miss Mary Beaulieu, Corn Sheldahl, Betty Colson, Helen Reinbach and Dorothy Hauber of Spokane and the bride's aunt Miss Anna Nelson of Grand Rapids.

The bride is a graduate of Grayling High School and the University of Michigan.

Michigan Mirror ...

The "do or die" period of the campaign is at hand.

Little more than two weeks remain before the Aug. 3 balloting. Candidates and party-workers are busy with personal appearances, radio and TV programs, newspaper ads and news stories supply election information for the voter.

The unusual offer of Democratic senators from Washington supplied campaign fodder for gun of Moody's opponents, both Democrat and Republican.

Senators Lehman (N. Y.), Douglas (Ill.), Mansfield (Mont.), Jackson (Wash.), Kennedy (Mass.), Humphrey (Minn.), Magnuson (Wash.) and Monroney (Okla.) all offered to fill speaking engagements for Blair Moody, whose physical condition prevents the active campaign originally scheduled.

Moody's primary opponent, Patrick V. McNamara, was heard from immediately after the offer was announced. In burning telegrams to each of the eight senators, Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell, former President Truman, and the 1952 presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson, McNamara "roundly" denounced the proposal.

"I find the announcement unbelievable that you will campaign in the Michigan primary for my ally opponent," he stated.

Blunt facts in the Democratic camp are said to be these:

McNamara is not actually considered to have much chance to beat Moody.

Although Gov. G. Mennen Williams has not blessed Moody officially, there is little doubt about how he feels.

Moody's backers strongly assert that the former senator did not suffer a heart attack. A particularly virulent form of pneumonia laid him low, they say, with complications that resembled a heart attack.

Campaign plans for Moody went up in smoke with the onset of illness. After a complete rest which doctors insist upon, Moody will attempt to sell himself via a state wide television hook-up scheduled for July 29.

The illness proved an unexpected source of material for GOP leaders. They were quick to point out in the words of Republican State Central Committee Chairman John Felkens that "Michigan citizens are able to pick their candidates without having out-of-state people help them form opinions."

Republicans expect to hit Moody hardest on his voting record as a senator. They point to his support for the 1951 tax program which "cost the people of Michigan $466 million in consumer taxes." Included in the bill, which was advanced by President Truman at the time of the Korean "police action," was 1/2 cent increase per gallon for gas; 1 cent per pack for cigarettes; 1 1/2 cent increase in excise taxes on automobiles.

Democratic answer is that taxes were voted for only a short period; were necessary to meet additional expense of military operations.

Provocative action by Gov. Williams in seeking to disown George S. Fitzgerald, senator from the L. C. Governor's office, from the Democratic party makes more apparent a split in ranks that has existed.

Williams is said to have taken the action in an effort to disown Fitzgerald's support for the post-war tax program, which was a "legitimate Democrat," say party leaders, "the governor would not have spoken out."

Except for their "bad boy," the Republican campaign is running a little more smoothly.

Dr. Eugene Koyes, who refused to go along with a GOP move to maintain unity by not attacking fellow candidates, is being pointedly ignored by party leaders.

Michigan's improved financial situation, with the state operating in black for the first time in years makes excellent campaign material. Republicans point with pride to "their" legislature program that made it possible to eradicate deficits of $65 million.

Moving forward due dates for corporation taxes and passing the business receipts tax are responsible for the happy financial state. GOP supporters are quick to point out that Williams supported neither move.

Democrats, however, refer to the end of red ink operation as a "joint action."

"The solution found was not to everyone's liking," they say, "but at least it worked."

Despite the vigorous activity in primary campaigns, the big battle is expected to take place before the general election in November. Each party machine will make every effort to win Michigan into its camp.

Whether the Wolverine state sends a Republican or Democrat senator to Washington is a question which has immense significance at the state level. With so much at stake, and the situation so unpredictable as political observers believe it to be, no time will be lost when the primary is over.

Stakes will be higher in the fall balloting; the campaigning will be harder.

Bob Hornung started on the pitcher's mound for Grayling with Norm Karsten taking over in the third inning and Bob Gildner in the fifth. Hornung allowed 5 runs, 6 hits and struck out 4. Karsten allowed 6 runs, 4 hits, 2 walks and struck out 2. Gildner allowed 2 runs, 3 hits, 4 walks while striking out 7. Derek McEvers and Larry Kolka handled the catching duties for Grayling.

Kiwanis Club Notes

The Kiwanis Club of Grayling nearly 100 per cent in attendance went to the new Summer Trails Boy Scout Camp on the east shore of Bear Lake for their meeting Monday evening.

The club had been invited by Fred Beckman, Scout executive of the Summer Trails Council of Bay City and director of the camp. Mr. Beckman spoke before the Kiwanis Club in April, telling of the new camp and of future plans.

The club members inspected the several new permanent buildings being erected at the camp before enjoying a chicken barbecue. The meal was cooked and eaten in an out of doors setting which was much enjoyed.

It is expected that about 500 Scouts will attend the camp this year. When the camp is completed it will handle about 2,000 Scouts each summer.

"Trained" Trout Prove Worth

Michigan's pioneer experiment in "training" trout indicates—according to the research workers involved—that the work has been "significantly" successful.

State officials have received a preliminary report from Psychological Research Services, Inc., the independent group that the conservation department contract has been "sending trout to school" at Oden hatchery during the last year.

The report says that, compared to untrained trout, the trained fish showed a higher rate of winter survival and that the angler's catch of trained trout was more even than that of untrained trout over a long period of time.

These have long been two of the biggest problems in trout planting work. The fish were all as easy as targets for the fisherman's lure and few ever survived opening week of the season.

Also, experiments showed that hatchery fish rarely lived through the winter planted in streams or lakes after the close of trout season.

The psychological experiment was an attempt to teach the fish, while in hatchery ponds, how to live after release in natural streams.

Fingerling-sized brook, brown and rainbow trout were taught to feed as natural fish, how to avoid birds and other predators and how to regard humans with suspicion.

After training, the fish were released last fall in a blocked off, experimental portion of a natural stream in the spring. It was found that "A high rate of survival was realized for all types," according to the report.

On legal-sized fish, the report says the training proved of little value to brook trout, but of significant value to rainbow trout. The legal-sized brook trout survived the winter but a high percentage of the "bows came through" the report says the trained fish also proved their superiority to untrained fish by avoiding anglers with studious caution. Untrained fish have long been notorious for their gullibility; if fish can be trained to be tougher to catch, the anglers can be provided with more sport.

The year of research work ended with the close of the fiscal year on June 30; the conservation commission is expected to discuss the report and results of the work at its next meeting.

Commissioner George Griffith concluded the meeting by stating that the objective of the Conservation Commission was to make friends and certainly not enemies of the people and that any action the Commission might take in this matter at a later date would only be for the best interests of the majority.

Former World's Champion Softball Team At Roscommon

Dow A. C. former world's champions will make their third annual appearance in Roscommon, on Thursday, July 22 at the Roscommon Athletic Field. They will meet a local team from the Roscommon City League selected by the managers of the six teams and the league president.

In the past these games have resulted in outstanding exhibitions as only last year, Dow was extended to 11 innings before they were able to score off Haight, ace Roscommon pitcher, and eke out a 2 to 0 decision. To achieve this, they were forced to use their crack pitchers, MacDonald and Skolnicki, all the way.

The Dow team is currently in second place in the National Football League composed of teams from South Bend, Bloomington, Aurora, Flint, Detroit, Ft. Wayne, Adrian, Muskegon and Midland. In the 14 years of their organization, they have compiled an outstanding record and are noted for their crowd pleasing abilities.

The game is sponsored by the Roscommon Rotary Club who use the proceeds for their recreation and community service programs.

John MacAuley spent Tuesday to Thursday of last week in Mt. Pleasant attending a Statewide Conference of County School Superintendents held at C.M.C.E.

Anyone interested in forming a small promotion group similar to a Chamber of Commerce is asked to meet at the office of the Grayling Air Service at the MacAuley Airport at 7:30 p. m. tonight (Thursday).

US - 27 Dam Removal Is Discussed

A very interesting and enlightening meeting was held last Friday night at the Grayling Sportsmen's Club. The purpose was to discuss with representatives of the Conservation Commission whether it would be advisable to remove the dam in the City of Grayling where route 27 crosses the AuSable river.

Eric Post, president of the Sportsmen's Club presided and the members of the Conservation Commission present were Fred Westerman, Chief of the Fish Division, Dr. Hazzard, Dr. Allison and Commissioner George Griffith.

The majority of the persons present were owners of property "up river" on the AuSable.

Fred Westerman was called upon for some introductory remarks and he told of how the Commission had been asked whether the removal of the dam would allow the trout fishing in the AuSable. His answer was an unqualified "yes" as he stated that water temperatures have a great deal to do with whether or not trout will remain in certain areas and that it was the judgement of the commission that the removal of the dam would have a tendency in critically warm periods to raise the temperature of the water in the river for quite a distance below the dam. He also mentioned that the removal of the dam would allow the trout a greater amount of freedom for movement up and down the river. Another point brought up was that the drainage of the stump areas along route 72 would over a period of years produce a growth of natural foliage that should aid in beautifying that section of the river.

There were some questions of how the matter of the dam removal had first come up and Bill Hines took the floor to explain that the first discussion took place at a meeting of the Sportsmen's Club and that his interest in the matter had only come about due to the fact that he had been appointed chairman of the committee to place the resolution before the city council. It is your reporters understanding that this resolution was placed before the council and was acted upon favorably.

Mr. Post went on to assure those present that he had no personal interest in this matter whatsoever.

There was a general discussion by the property owners concerning the effect that the removal of the dam would have on the water level of the river and on the properties and Dr. Allison stated that in his opinion that there would be no change in the water level as far up stream as the properties being discussed were concerned. However he further stated that an engineering survey had been made that a definite answer could not be given.

The petition opposing the removal of the dam, which has been signed by many residents of the community, was placed before the members of the commission and each of the points contained in it were discussed somewhat in detail.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mr. Westerman summed up the entire situation in a brief statement to the effect that the Conservation Commission had absolutely no intention of considering the removal of the dam until a complete survey had been made. This survey would consider such matters as whether the removal would be beneficial to fishing in the AuSable in later years, whether the benefits would be great enough to warrant the expense of the removal, what the effect would be on the water level in the "upper river" and he assured everyone present that the commission had intended, from the moment this matter had been brought to their attention, to do nothing until such time as a complete study and survey had been made.

Commissioner George Griffith concluded the meeting by stating that the objective of the Conservation Commission was to make friends and certainly not enemies of the people and that any action the Commission might take in this matter at a later date would only be for the best interests of the majority.

Economic Development Commission Looks To North Michigan

The Michigan Economic Development Commission has asked its Northern Lower Peninsula Advisory Board to decide what are the 10 most important problems facing the economic development of the area north of the Mackinac-Bay line and to make early recommendations for dealing with them.

The Commission has engaged a consultant to assist the advisory board in developing its findings and recommendations.

The consultant is John Beukema of North Muskegon, who retired last fall as secretary-manager of the Greater Muskegon Chamber of Commerce and who for many years has been recognized as one of the outstanding authorities in the country on community development and area industrial promotion. He began his career as secretary of the Manistee Board of Commerce and has long been closely identified with development activities in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula. For a quarter of a century Mr. Beukema was one of the leading advocates of the St. Lawrence Seaway and now that it has been voted by Congress his appointment to the U. S.-Canada policy board on the Seaway is being widely urged. For several years he has been chairman of the Economic Development Commission's advisory committee on transportation problems.

It is being assumed that transportation problems and the development opportunities which it is hoped the Seaway will bring will figure importantly in the study. The Northern Lower Peninsula board is beginning.

Representatives of the Sisters of Mercy, the State of Michigan Office of Hospital Survey and Construction, and the local Hospital Planning Committee made their decision after discussing the advantages and disadvantages of the present and proposed locations.

This is the first, but a very important, step towards our goal of a new Mercy Hospital. Purchased for the sum of $5,000.00 the new location is an ideal site for the Hospital.

Other steps in the progress of the program are in the planning stage and announcements will be published as they are taken.

US-27 Crash Injures Three

Three persons were injured in an automobile collision on US-27 four miles south of Grayling Sunday evening at about 10 o'clock.

Dr. Ralph A. Hoffman, 28, of Grayling received severe facial cuts, fractured ribs and bruises. William Parsons, 56, of Livonia suffered broken ribs and an injured kidney. William Kayser, 52, of Detroit received multiple bruises.

Sheriff John A. Papendick investigated the accident. The collision occurred as both cars were headed north. Dr. Hoffman, who was driving north did not see the vehicle driven by Parsons as it was down in a small dip. As the Hoffman car topped the small hill, the Parsons car was directly in front of him moving at a slow pace and another car was coming from the north. Sheriff Papendick said Hoffman unable to stop quickly enough hit the rear of the Parsons car. Both cars were badly damaged in the crash.

Dogs By The Billion!

This summer, as always, huge armies of Americans of all ages are flocking to baseball games, to beaches and lakes for picnics and sport, to amusement parks and carnivals, and are enjoying all manner of other diversions. A very high proportion of them will have what might be termed an "expensible companion" in the form of that delicacy known as the hot dog.

During the 14-week period that began with Decoration Day and will end with Labor Day, says the American Meat Institute, the incredible total of 2,624,640,000 hot dogs, a string that would girdle the earth about 8 times, will be consumed in this country! That works out to 21 of the dogs for every man, woman and child between the ages of five and sixty.

The hot dog, obviously, is a true and lasting American institution. It's as indigenous as apple pie. To millions of us, there would be a sad lack in the best of ball games without a "red hot" or two and something cold to wash it down with. The hot dog stands are as much a part of carnivals as the rides and the sideshows and the barkers. And the hot dog is a key element in the home barbecue trend which has developed enormously in the late years.

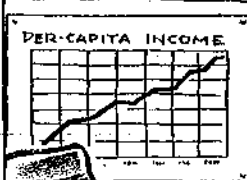

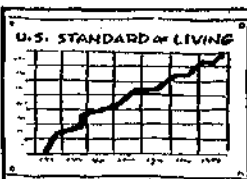

This season's consumption, incidentally, will be eight per cent over last's. The good old hot dog gets more popular all the time.

Up To You

This Administration is firmly opposed to price and wage and other economic controls, and to the philosophy they represent. It's a safe bet that the vast majority of the people feel the same way, after their bitter experience with the controls, particularly in the post-war era.

Yet reports from Washington say that top officials have been preparing blue prints for the reimposition of controls.

GILT-EDGE SECURITIES!

INVEST IN AMERICA!

The reason for that lies in the possibility of a major international crisis, that would necessitate a vast increase in governmental military spending. There is also the fear that people might again start over-buying and hoarding, and thus needlessly feed the flames of inflation.

In a syndicated article on the situation, Sylvia Porter, the well-known writer on finance and business, said: "Unless a defense spending stepup creates a new inflation blowoff — which is unlikely — economic controls wall may stay on the shelf. In essence, whether the controls you hate come back really will depend on the common sense and coolness you show in the event of an explosion in Asia."

That is sound and important observation. We are in a free economy for the most part now. The abundance that kind of an economy creates for all can be seen in its myriad physical manifestations in every retail store in the land. The actions and attitude of the people can decide whether we are to keep this blessing — or are to return to an era of shortages, black markets, and rationing which are inescapable in an artificially controlled economy.

HAVE you been thinking you can't afford a new Buick? Listen:

If you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick—and we boldly show our price here to prove it.

Look again, and you'll see that this is the local delivered price of the new Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan. Compare, and you'll learn that this price is just a few dollars away from those of the so-called "low-price three."

But—dig a little deeper if you want the real clincher. That's when you find that those few dollars more you pay for a Buick buy you a lot more automobile.

They buy a whale of a lot more power—Buick V8 power—plus the new economy of Power-Head combustion.

They buy a lot more luxury and comfort and solidity—more room, more glass area, more frame strength, more tread width, more ride steadiness—including the million dollar "feel" of all-coil springing and torque-tube stability.

They buy, too, the most advanced styling of the times, and the great panoramic windshield, and the surety that such fresh-

FREDERIC BOY SCOUTS

Troop 78

The following boys enjoyed a week end at Red Head Lake: W. Barber, M. Alma, R. Mertes, L. Charron, C. Lodge, G. Phippo, B. Johnson, B. Pratt, F. Turner and H. Partello. They were accompanied by their assistant Scoutmaster, G. Kaiser.

The week end was spent fishing, swimming, boating, canoeing and qualification on first and second class such as compass reading, Morse code, camping, cooking, etc. Phippo and Gene Kaiser held the record for fishing. Gary caught six large blue gills, the first night and after cleaning them, planning to have them when they went for their early morning swim, but while they were swimming a coon called upon them and ate the fish plus some bread.

Gene Kaiser caught a 13 inch black bass the second night, but not taking any chances, he and Fred Turner tried it for an evening snack.

The following boys were awarded their Second Class badge at a Camp Fire Saturday night. They became eligible for their badges while at Camp Nayati last month. They were as follows: W. Barber, R. Mertes, L. Charron, C. Lodge, G. Phippo, B. Johnson, B. Pratt and F. Turner. There were several of the parents present and gave the boys a big hand for their great scouting accomplishment.

Sunday morning the boys attended Sunday School in Fredric returning to camp for their noon lunch and broke camp at 2:00. All reported a well enjoyed week end in spite of the couple light rain storms.

We also wish to thank Carl and Bill Johnson and Mr. Henion for the use of their canoe and boat, also those that furnished transportation but not the coon for stealing our fish. We are all looking forward to our next camping trip in August.

Wrought-iron candle holders with two tapers (gifts to the bride and groom) at each side of the cake, along with the wedding bouquets, were used as decoration.

SCIENCE and your Health

DISHPAN HANDS

By Science Features
A woman's work is never done, according to an old maxim, but very few people regard housework as injurious. Yet the housewife does know occupational diseases. Dishpan hands or, as it is known when more serious, housewives' eczema, is becoming more and more common.

In a study of 145 cases of eczema of the hands Dr. Matthew J. Brunner of Chicago found that 100 patients were housewives. The doctor described the ailments as starting with dryness, redness and scaling which, when the condition became more severe, led to cracks in the skin, crusting and blistering.

Continued dunkings in hot water and soap are responsible for the condition, along with other household culprits such as ammonia water, bleaches, detergents and solvents (as in Waxes and polishes).

Treatment, based on the idea that the eczema is primarily due to irritation and the skin is extremely sensitive to household agents, is simple. The doctor said that "cosmetic cleansing creams are sometimes useful" and that petrolatum, boric acid and zinc oxide ointments are also recommended.

Serious outbreaks demand the attention of a physician who will check for secondary infection. Dr. Brunner reported that "antibiotics are given orally and sometimes produce spectacular improvement."

Terramycin orally administered for five to seven days was preferred over drugs that are applied to the skin to fight infection.

The most important point for the patient is to remove the irritating causes. Possibly to the dismay of other members of the family, Dr. Brunner stated that "the patient is urged to do only a minimum amount of housework . . . and to enlist the aid of husband or children in dishwashing and other kitchen duties."

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS

ANTLERLESS DEER HUNT IN '54?

At the recent annual convention of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs the question of another an-terless deer season came up before the caucus, with a strong undercurrentment of the deer population.
Nevertheless it was generally agreed that some sectors of Michigan still contain too many deer for the amount of food available. It follows that stronger hunting pressure will be required in those areas.

Permit System Coming?

With the prospect of limited shooting of antlerless deer in these selected areas the Conservation Department must find a way to place a definite number of hunters within the limits during the special season.
Issuance of permits, which was done a few years ago in the cherry orchard counties in the west, is costly and unwieldy. Game Division Chief Harry Ruhl, regarded as one of the top game management men in the nation, appeared before the delegates at the MUCC meeting with a control idea well worth consideration.

Look for the "Lucky Number!"
Ruhl's idea calls for the predetermined selection of the areas needing "thinning." Then right around Thanksgiving Day the sale of deer licenses would be suspended for the year (after an estimated 400,000 had been sold), and deer hunters would stand by while the State made a ceremony of spinning a wheel bearing the numbers from 0 to 9. Let us assume the number 6 came up. Then, all hunters whose license ended in the number 6 would be privileged to go to the "any deer" with or without antlers.

Theoretically this could put about 40,000 hunters, or 10% into that area. If more were required the wheel could be spun again!

Economical Method

Thus the State could save money, and sportsmen would be satisfied that the system was fair and square. Of course, only those hunters who had not already killed a deer during the current season would be eligible for the "draw."
This would cut down the prospects an established percentage. Another group would not care to hunt without their regular "partners," which would further reduce the total.
However, a close estimate could be made of the total number of hunters, and a second estimate of their success ratio. Thus we might harvest very close to the exact number our game experts call for, in the overpopulated area.

It's something to think about in Michigan Outdoors!

What's New with Cows?

Catching up on my reading, I noticed three news items you might like to know about.

First, a farmer whose milk had a trace of garlic flavor is feeding his cows chlorophyll to sweeten their breaths.

Next, a college agricultural station has trained a herd to get milked when they are called by number. Seems 75 out of 80 cows learned their numbers in a few days. Guess the "dumb" five couldn't count that high. Final item—cows are getting "nose-printed" for identification.

From where I sit, I hope there is as much progress being made with humans . . . especially in regard to tolerance. Whether it's a choice of a political party, a basketball team, or a favorite beverage, let's learn to live and let live more. You may ask for a soft drink after a hard day's work—I'll choose a refreshing glass of beer. But let's not try to "cow" the other fellow into our way of thinking!
